IMPERIAL SETTLERS

In Store Event Kit

Dear participants in the Portal Games Retailers Support Program!

We would like to present you this set of guidelines concerning our Imperial Settlers In Store Event Kit. Treat this piece of info as an advice, not rules. You could have different approach, we just want to make sure you are properly equipped to use the kit.

As you probably know, the kit includes a POSTER to advertise your event - please put it somewhere visible, as soon, as you get it. Please use also other channels of communication to inform your clients that you participate in this event. Choose one date, preferably an organized play day or game night, make an event of Facebook, tweet about it and please use #ISInStoreEvent - we would like to hear from you that way. We would be also very happy to see some photos from your events through this hashtag.

The Kit includes 12 VILLAGE CARDS with a unique artwork. One of these cards can replace one standard village card from an Imperial Settlers deck. All players that participate in the event should get one of these cards, as a token of our appreciation. You can distribute them randomly (as they have exclusive artworks). If you plan to have more than 12 players participating in your event, please order more than one Event Kit.

The Kit includes four new, UNIQUE PLAYER BOARDS, one for each faction. Please make a simple leaderboard divided into four categories, one for each faction. Note player names and victory points there - do not sum the point, just note each game separately. You can then check, which player playing for example Barbarian faction got most points in a single game - he then wins this special Barbarian player board. And so do other best players representing each faction. If there is a true champion among the players, who got most points in two or more factions, please offer him a choice of a player board, but he or she would still get only one - second best place then counts in the rest of the factions. The goal here is to make as many players happy. And the chance is, if you had a champion in multiple factions, he qualifies for the grand prize. In case of a tie, second best result counts, and so on.

The grand prize - the Kit includes new WOODEN COMPONENTS with extra stickers. A player who achieved most points in a single game is game night grand champion and wins these wooden components. In case of a tie, second best result counts, and so on.

You can of course make this event more casual, and distribute prizes with a lottery, or make a mini-tournament and sum up all points - that's up to you. The point is, the goal of the event is to give away all those new components, boards and cards to the players, who love the game!
